Entry-Level Full-Stack Developer

I am an outgoing Full-Stack Web Developer from the University of Kansas and Trilogy full-stack web development program as well as a part-time employee at Carrabba's Italian Grill. I am adventurous and eager to learn new frameworks and libraries to continue building on my current education and experience. Currently, I am well versed in front-end programming and application development tools using CSS3, Bootstrap, HTML, Express, Express-handlebars, Java-Script, JQuery, Materialize, and React. My current work ethic and history has been proven by being a self-starter, team player, and multi-tasker. I consistently strive to exceed expectations of my manager and my clients or customers.
